7. Commission Comments/Questions

Commissioner Moore:
I have three items. I would like to ask the Commission to close in memory Corrine Woods tonight. Yes, exactly my reaction Director Rahaim. She passed away on Monday totally unexpectedly. Fabulous Waterfront neighborhood advocate; strong person, often in front of the Commission when we dealt with issues on the Waterfront and her passing came unexpected. I ask that we close in her memory. The second thing is, I wanted to bring this up a few weeks ago. There was an article on Friday, March 15th in the paper, an estimated 100,000 homes are sitting empty in San Francisco. I would like to ask the director, perhaps not today but at some point, to comment on how the sources for making such a statement were put together. 100,000 empty units in light of the struggle we are going through every week is absolutely unfathomable. However, since I do not know exactly how to identify the sources by which these data are compiled, I would like for guidance on putting that in our ongoing discussions, thank you. I can pass this around for those who haven't seen it.

My third comment is going to be a little bit emotionally laden. And I need to talk about memo to Planning Commission dated March 26th or 25th. It is not agendized today, but it speaks to changes in how we look at roof decks. And I want to go back and reflect that throughout 2018, we made major strides in this Commission to present policy and act on policy which much reflected and simplified of how we look at DRs which deal with roof decks. I have to say that the memo that is in front of us that was also stuck in this very large package of this week's commission package does the opposite from what I think this Commission had been supporting. And I have to unfortunately say, for me it is a misstep in the use of discretionary power to come up with something which is completely counter to the major tenants of what we are standing for. I like the Director to, one, put a hold on this becoming law by tomorrow, April 5th so says the attachment to this memo and number two, allow the Commission and the community to hear of what we all embraced on August 30th when a formal hearing was held with respect to the subject matter. It was exactly given as an executive summary, hearing date August 30th, Residential Roof Deck Policies which very clearly summarized the sensitivities and triggers which have been coming through the Commission’s voice for at least the last three years and has gotten stronger and stronger, uniform consensus from how we look at roof decks. We are not speaking just from a story building, the building, a very large building, we are talking about roof additions also in smaller scale neighborhoods, Mission, Noe Valley and on and on and on. And I strongly urge that this would be on hold until we have an ability to discuss with you and your staff where this should go because in the end, we have the discretion to again hear this as unnecessary DRs. I want to stop. I am emotionally a little bit choked up about it. I’ve put a lot of energy into this myself. You have taken it forward into neighborhood specific guidelines and all of a sudden, this thing shows up and it just doesn’t, it just doesn’t do it.

President Melgar:
Thank you, Commissioner Moore. Director Rahaim, did you want to say something or --
John Rahaim, Planning Director:
Yeah, it’s not on the calendar today. Commissioner, I was going to talk about this in my comments today. So I’ll, if I could I’ll just do it now. What we had proposed is a Department policy which there are several such policies in the Department. Just to guide staff’s review of projects. And what we had attempted to do is incorporate the kind of direction that you have been giving us over the last couple years on roof decks. So clearly, you’re feeling that there is something we didn’t capture correctly. So, I am happy to kind of ask staff to hold on these. I just -- and have a hearing. The idea was that these would be interim as you see on the cover. These are interim policies and that we would report back to you in six months on how they are working. If that is not correctly capturing your concerns, then obviously we need to have further discussion about it but that was the intent of these particular standards and procedures.

President Melgar:
Thank you, Director Rahaim. I too had understood that from you, but I have also gotten an earful from members of the public. So, we may want to be more cautious about it preceding.

John Rahaim, Planning Director:
Okay.

Commissioner Moore:
I like to add one comment, I appreciate your saying it would be interim policy but any interim policy only instills bad habits. So, if we come out of the shoot, I would suggest that we are really strong in the major improvements this Commission has worked on very, very hard to bring on a better track.

D. DEPARTMENT MATTERS

8. Director’s Announcements

John Rahaim, Planning Director:
Just a couple announcements. I was going to talk about the roof decks. We have talked about that. We will schedule a hearing on that. The second thing is that article about the 100,000 units. I also caught light of that. I’m happy -- I think we definitely need to look at the methodology. I can’t imagine the number is anywhere near that. That is one quarter of the city’s housing stock. The city has only 400,000 units in total.

Commissioner Johnson:
This is for the entire Bay Area. They corrected it.

John Rahaim, Planning Director:
In the Bay Area? Okay, I don’t know the number is for the city but okay. So, anyway we will look at that. Because this, that method, the methods of calculating and kind of discovering what units are truly vacant is a very inexact science and there has been a number of attempts to look at that but definitely want to look the background of this particular study. And thirdly, I am stunned to hear about Ms. Woods’ passing. We worked with her very closely. She’s been on the Mission Bay CAC for many years. She was on the advisory board.
of our study of the Rail Yard Plan, and she has just been actively involved in the community in that part of the city for years and years and years. I am very sad to hear of her passing. She was a very gracious person who I really enjoyed working with and speaking with. So, I am very sad to hear of her passing and I would certainly also reiterate the request to have the meeting adjourned in her memory. Thank you.

9. Review of Past Events at the Board of Supervisors, Board of Appeals and Historic Preservation Commission

Land Use Committee
MARCH 18-22, 2019

- 190030 Planning, Administrative Codes - Zoning Controls and Fees in the C-3-R (Downtown Retail) District. Sponsor: Peskin. Staff: Butkus.

At the March 18th Land Use hearing the Committee considered Supervisor Peskin’s ordinance to amend the Open Space fee in the C-3-R District from $4 a square foot to $6 a square foot for the conversion of retail to office. Commissioners you heard this item on February 21 and recommended approval. At the land use hearing there was some public comment from representatives of Union Square landowners expressing concern about the increased fee. In the end the Committee voted to recommend the item to the Full Board.

April 1-5, 2019

This week, the land use committee considered Mayor Breed and Supervisor Brown’s Small Business Permit Streamlining ordinance. This item would, among other things, reduce the buffer around LCUs and LCCUs from ¼ mile to 300’, allow outdoor activity hours as of right, and rationalize certain liquor license restrictions. Commissioners, you heard this item on March 7 of this year and voted to approve with modification. The proposed modification was to retain the Conditional Use Authorization requirement for Outdoor Activity Areas associated with a Bar use. After comments from Staff, the committee continued the item to the call of the chair.

Lastly the Board heard a CEQA appeal for the 10-year contract renewal and use permit for the Outside Lands Music Festival. The appeal primarily raised issues around the noise produced by the event. The appellant stated the project should not be exempt from CEQA review, and department should impose CEQA noise mitigation measures, and numerical noise thresholds. The department stated that while the festival does increase the ambient noise levels, the duration of this increase is very limited and therefore it does not result in a significant noise impact.

Most of the public comment for the appeal stated that the noise was too loud, and numeric noise thresholds should be imposed. Public comment for upholding the departments determination stated the noise was not too loud; that such events are part of living in an urban setting; and the festival was an economic benefit to the outer Richmond and Sunset neighborhoods.

Several supervisors asked questions about how the department analyzes noise impacts, and asked question to the Recreation and Park department about how they address the noise complaints received during the event. In the end Supervisor Fewer moved to uphold the departments CEQA determination. In doing so she acknowledged the festival does have tradeoffs for the community, but that the benefits outweigh those impacts. The Appeal was denied unanimously.

Tim Frye, Preservation Officer:
Good afternoon Commissioners. Tim Frye, department staff, with two items from yesterday’s Historic Preservation Commission to share with you, both landmark designations. The Commission afforded a positive recommendation for landmark designation to 2851 24th Street, known as Galleria De La Raza. There was a good deal of discussion among the Commissioners about whether or not to extend the designation to the interior storefront gallery spaces. There was a concern that limitations in designating the interior volume would also provide restriction or would result in restrictions that would limit new uses entering or contracting for that site. So as a result, the Commission decided to designate the exterior of the building, the liberated mural on the exterior, and the storefront’s immediately on the interior sort of the storefront base and decided not to designate the volume. That recommendation will go to the Full Board and then referred to the Land Use Committee shortly. The second item was 2031 Bush Street, also known as Kinmon Gakuen, in the Japantown neighborhood, the Japanese language school. The building is significant for a variety of reasons including its original use and current use as a Japanese language center. The processing center for Japanese interment during World War II, A Booker T. Washington community center's use and stewardship of the building during the war, and then its return back to the Japanese language school after the war when the Japanese were allowed to move back into San Francisco. The project sponsor, the owners were there, and they wholeheartedly support the designation and the Commission unanimously recommended an initiation. It has one more hearing at the Commission and then it will go to the Full Board for consideration. So those are the two items to share with you and I'm happy to answer any questions. Thank you.

Jonas P. Ionin, Commission Secretary:
I have no report from the Board of Appeals.
