7. Review of Past Events at the Board of Supervisors, Board of Appeals and Historic Preservation Commission
Aaron Starr, Manager of Legislative Affairs:
Good afternoon Commissioners. Aaron Starr, Manager of Legislative Affairs. At this week's Land Use Committee, there was rather a long hearing that included an informational presentation on the comprehensive Parnassus Heights Plan and the Memorandum of Understanding and an accompanying resolution urging the California Regents to consider postponing the proposed expansion plan EIR. The hearing on these items went until about 8:00 pm and the concerns expressed from members of the public were similar to those that you heard on this item last week. A hearing was also notable as Supervisor Melgar's first meeting as the Chair of the Land Use Committee; the other two members are Peskin and Preston. The resolution was intended to allow more time for some of the details of the MOU to be worked out. Ultimately the resolution did pass with a unanimous vote. Supervisor Melgar stated that she wanted the I's dotted and the T's crossed in explaining her support for the resolution and similar concerns about missing details were expressed by Supervisors Peskin and Preston.

Next, the Committee considered Supervisor Peskin’s resolution to initiate landmark designation for the Diego Rivera Murals at the now closed SF Art Institute. There were some concern out there that the Institute was planning on selling them to settle some of their debts and the landmarking was intended to make sure that the art stays where it is. This claim was disputed by representatives of the SF Art Institute during public comment, but they did not object to the landmark designation. The initiation resolution was passed unanimously.

Finally, the Committee considered Supervisor Peskin’s Interim Controls resolution that would require CU Authorization for expansion of new construction projects, extension or new construction projects that did not maximized density in RM, RC and RTO Districts. The controls placed a 2,000 square foot CU threshold on units as well. Since these are interim controls, they do not come to the Commission for review and comment; however, Supervisor Peskin did work with Planning staff on drafting the resolution and edit several of our comments and suggestions to the final controls. Public comment on this was interesting as it challenged traditional motions of what certain groups support. Members from more established neighborhoods group support the controls to maximize density while there was considerable objection to the interim controls from those that might classify themselves as YIMBYs. One of their main complaint was that the controls added more regulation to Planning process and did not contain any carrots on the sticks. Which is a fair point in something that the Planning Department is also concerned about, however, these controls are temporary and mentioned address in the immediate problem. There will be ample opportunity to craft permanent controls that encourage projects we want and not just discourage projects we don’t. Interim controls allow for that opportunity. There are also species arguments expressed that this was an upzoning and impact the communities like the Mission which it is not. Not only are these zoning districts not widespread in the Mission, interim controls can only add process to address an immediate concern, it can’t up-zone properties. After public comment and some technical questions from Chair Melgar and no comments from Supervisor Preston, the Committee then voted to forward this item to the Full Board as committee report.

At the Full Board this week Supervisor Peskin’s resolution to initiate landmark designation for 447 Battery Street passed its -- it was adopted. The resolution to initiate designation for One Montgomery Street was also adopted. The Interim Controls for the RCR and RTO Districts were adopted and initiate landmark designation for the Diego Rivera Murals was also adopted. And finally, the resolution asking for a delay in the EIR for the Parnassus Campus was also adopted. That concludes my report and I am happy to answer any questions.

Commissioner Tanner:
Not fast enough with my typing. Just a question for the Parnassus Campus. Do you have any insight if this would affect the Regents' work and their approvals? And then, the subsequent MOU that was supposed to be signed or any insight into -- if that will delay that in their meeting, in their decision making?

Aaron Starr, Manager of Legislative Affairs:
I don’t think it will. I think that the Regents, from what I read in the paper, aren’t delaying their meeting, so, it was a nonbinding resolution. And also, the MOU that we are entering in is not legally enforceable which is one of the complaints that they had during the hearing.

Rich Hillis, Planning Director:
And just to add on to that too, Commissioner Tanner. The UC Regents are scheduled still to vote next week on this, and then, we couldn’t execute the MOU until after they act because they need to certify the EIR.

Commissioner Tanner:
So, is there any sense in what the pathway forward would be? If the Board were to do -- I mean I guess -- it seems that it may the Board’s actions may or may not impact the Regents and may or may not impact the MOU. Is that accurate?

Rich Hillis, Planning Director:
Yes. There’s still an ability, you know, as Aaron Starr said – to dot the I’s and cross T’s on the MOU and make some changes, but it doesn’t look as if that resolution is going to change the course at the Regents.

Commissioner Tanner:
Okay. Thank you very much.

Rich Hillis, Planning Director:
Sure.

E. GENERAL PUBLIC COMMENT

SPEAKERS: Georgia Schuttish – The point of the comments is to focus on the Demo Calcs for this project specifically and then as an example, generally, for similar projects so the Commission can consider using Section 317 (b) (2) (D) as the Commission is allowed under the Planning Code. The sending in of the slides flashing on the screen is not to cause an enforcement action due to the potential loss of a legal, rent controlled unit, but rather to encourage the Commission to take a proactive position by looking back at this project as well as other similar projects and their outcomes and then to look forward, by adjusting the Demo Calcs. Adjusting the Demo Calcs can preserve housing and preserve relative affordability, including rental units, which is the legislated intent of Section 317. Everyone reading “Architecture for our city” in the 1/10/2021 Chronicle R.E. Section, should have broad questions.

F. REGULAR CALENDAR

= Georgia Schuttish – The Leonhardt Chart from 2017 is a good illustration of the income inequality that faces SF. The income inequality really took off in 2014 according to the chart and that was around the time that the Extreme Alterations also took off. Projects permitted as Alterations were Demolitions and then ultimately sold for great deal of money as spec projects. This was within five years of the Demo Calcs being enacted and within five years of the Staff saying they may come back to you with...“...recommendations for adjustment of some of the thresholds that the code empowers you to make, particularly about the thresholds for alteration projects that are tantamount to demolitions” Section 317 (b) (2) (D) empowers you as the staff said back in March 2009 to immediately move on this to help the Housing Recovery. I will send a follow up letter.
- Diana Flores – Latin X population
- Charles Heard – Meeting
- Gabriela Ruiz – Lower income neighborhood
- Lorraine Petty – Affordable housing
